SUBJECT: Discuss and File Report of Investments, Including Market Values for Investments for the Month Ending December 31, 2012.

RECOMMENDATION: Discuss and File

FISCAL/MANDATES IMPACT: None

DISCUSSION:

The average daily portfolio balance for the month of December amounted to $1.9 billion. The portfolio yield for the month of December was .58%. The weighted average days to maturity increased 30 days to 326 days. The total net monthly earnings were $ 977 thousand. The portfolio has been structured to satisfy the anticipated cash flow needs of the participants. The investment practices and portfolio holdings are in compliance with the investment policy.

The portfolio has been managed with the stated objectives of safety, liquidity and earning a competitive rate of return, outlined in the Statement of Investment Policy. In striving to maintain the primary objective, safety of principal, the County portfolio has received a rating of AAAf by Standard & Poor's, the highest possible ranking given by the agency. Regarding the secondary objective, maintaining sufficient liquidity to meet cash flow needs, the portfolio is rated S1+, also the highest ranking given by S&P. In light of the first two objectives the portfolio has on balance outperformed its benchmarks, satisfying the final objective, that of earning a competitive rate of return.

The Ventura County investment fund is a fixed-income, interest-rate-sensitive portfolio with no direct exposure to equities, commodities, or global markets, and this report will more specifically focus on factors related to U.S. interest rates.

Congress and the President reached agreement on December 31 on a plan to temporarily avoid the most serious consequences of the so-called "fiscal cliff." Inaction would have resulted in significant additional federal tax costs to most people and significant federal budget reductions. It would have significantly increased the likelihood of returning the economy to a statistical state of recession and would at least have imposed an additional drag on the already-weak recovery. Most employed persons will notice a 2% reduction in gross pay (on income up to $113,700) as the result of an increase in the FICA/Social Security payroll tax. The consensus of commentators is that 2013 will result in modest changes in taxes and spending that will not by themselves significantly affect economic recovery or the interest rate market.

The principal actor directly affecting interest rates is the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Open Market Committee. Chairman Ben Bernanke announced in December after the FOMC meeting that it was the Fed's intent to maintain benchmark interest rates at their present low levels "at least as long" as the unemployment rate remains above 6.5 % and if inflation "between one and two years ahead" is projected to be no more than 2.5 %. Although the Fed stated that it "views these thresholds as consistent with its earlier date-based guidance" it did not repeat its earlier pledge that interest rates would be held at current levels "at least through mid-2015." Chairman Bernanke also announced the continuation of the Fed program to buy back Treasury securities as part of its effort to control interest rates, stimulate the economy, and reduce unemployment.

The December FOMC minutes (released on January 3, 2013) reveal some disagreement among members whether the buy-back program should continue, based on concerns it may increase inflation; and whether a modest increase in interest rates would actually stimulate important elements of the economy. The interest rate market responded to the release of the minutes with a slight increase in Treasury yields, which may be reflected in the investment report in February if it holds up.

The U. S. economy continues its slow recovery. The most useful commentary is found in the Federal Reserve Board's Summary of Commentary, hereinafter "The Beige Book." The report characterizes the economy's growth through December 2012 as modest to moderate. Consumer spending gained, along with activity in travel and tourism. The service sector advanced, as did manufacturing. Agriculture and natural resources showed "robust growth." The real estate sector was characterized as "sluggish" and loan demand increased only slightly. The report noted that upward price pressures, price increases, and wage pressures were modest overall. A quite satisfactory summary of the report can be found at <http://www.bloomberg.com/news/2012-01-11/u-s-federal-reserve-jan-beige-book-summary-text-.html>

Given the current interest rate environment and the terms of our investment policy, we anticipate the County's yield to continue to drop modestly. Further, we continue to seek investment opportunities in order to optimize earnings (U. S. Treasury Market graph attached).

Attached is a listing of market values provided by our custodian, Wells Fargo Bank, for all investments for the month ending December 31, 2012. GASB Statement no. 31 states that variances between the cost of investments and the fair value of investments shall not be considered budgetary resources or uses of resources unless the value of investments is permanently impaired because of decreased issuer creditworthiness or it is determined that the Treasurer be unable to hold investments to maturity.
